The first of the week Mr. and Mrs. Jack London and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Church went over to Ahuimanu on horseback. Mr. London pronounces Ahuimanu the most beautiful spot on Oahu.

The stag dinner at the Seaside given by the Oahu polo team in honor of the members of the Maui team was a great success from every standpoint. Forty covers were laid in the Turkish room, the table being in the shape of a square, with all guests facing each other. In the middle of the square was a miniature polo field, arranged by Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Wilder, which was most cleverly done with real grass and diminutive ponies. A gathering of polo players—in Hawaii, at least—is synonymous with having a good time, and last night's dinner was most emphatically not an exception to the rule. Those who were invited were A. L. C. Atkinson, R. W. Atkinson, Albert Afong, Dr. Will Baldwin, A. M. Brown, A. W. Carter, J. P. Cooke, Harold Castle, George R. Carter, Fred J. Church, Fred B. Damon, George Denison, S. Haskett Derby, Walter F. Dillingham, H. G. Dillingham, J. L. Fleming, Walter Macfarlane, George C. Potter, Robert W. Shingle, Gerrit P. Wilder, Dr. J. R. Judd, Nicholas Longworth, Frank Baldwin, Sam A. Baldwin, C. C. Krumpholtz, David Fleming, Harold Rice, Chas. A. Rice, Albert Rice, C. H. Cooke, C. M. Cooke, Jr., W. A. Love, Percy Morse, James Wilder, R. E. Wright, Clifford Kimball and Harry Cobb. The Turkish room was one bower of golden shower, the Maui colors being orange and black, and arranged about were rare vines and shrubs from the Hon. Archibald Cleghorn's place. The lamp shades were of giant golden shower blossoms and in the center of the table was a stack of polo clubs, surmounted by the Maui colors. Beneath was a field of grass on which two Teddy bears, wearing the colors of the opposing clubs, bestrode chargers and fought for supremacy during the evening. The tout ensemble was the most unique and artistic that has ever been seen at a Honolulu dinner.

Robert Thurston was a passenger on the Union Oil Steamer Santa Rita yesterday. He is going east to attend college.

Princess Kawananakoa leaves for the mainland in two weeks, going east with her two sisters, Beatrice and Muriel Campbell, to place them at school. While away the Princess will make a tour of the principal cities of the east and will doubtless be extensively entertained, her circle of friends and acquaintances including many of the prominent society leaders of the mainland cities.

The marriage of Miss Rachel Thompson, of Glasgow, Scotland, to Robert Sutton, of Wainaku, was celebrated on the twelfth instant at the Foreign church, Hilo, the Reverend Curtis E. Shield officiating. The bride arrived from Scotland the previous day, going on from Honolulu on the Claudine.

W. T. Rawlins was a passenger on the Alameda, sailing on Wednesday. He will spend some time on the mainland on a vacation trip.

Miss Dodge, who arrived on the Manchuria, has taken a room at the Seaside. She is an old friend of the Macfarlanes and is therefore sure of having an exceedingly good time while in Honolulu.

Wednesday evening a dance was given at the Seaside in honor of the officers and ladies of the transport Warren and Captain Saunders and the officers and passengers of the S. S. Manchuria. Captain Saunders received quite an ovation.

The merry times at the Seaside will be kept up this week. Today a concert will be given during the afternoon and evening in honor of Colonel Ralph W. Hoyt and the officers and ladies of the Twenty-fifth Infantry. This is the famous regiment that not many months ago was made most prominent through the fact that sundry members of the privates shot up the town of Brownsville, Texas, one company being discharged from the army by President Roosevelt. The Twenty-fifth has a colored band of exceptional excellence, which will probably play at the Seaside this afternoon in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth.

Harry W. Forbes, well known in Honolulu as a teacher of Oahu College and athlete on P. A. C. teams, has now a fine position in New York City as secretary to Judge McLaughlin of the Appellate Division of the New York State Supreme Court. After leaving Punahou, he received a diploma in law from the New York Law School where he has since been an instructor.

Mr. and Mrs. George R. Carter were the hosts of a dance given in honor

Mesick-Richards

In the presence of a large number of friends at eight o'clock last night at the German Lutheran church, Leverett H. Mesick and Mrs. Bertha J. Richards were united in matrimony, Pastor Felmy performing the ceremony.

The bride is a native of Germany, but came to the Islands when a child, accompanying her mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bechert to Kauai. After several years' residence in the Garden Island, Mr. and Mrs. Bechert returned to Germany, their daughter remaining here, becoming afterwards Mrs. Frederick J. Richards. Electing to become an American, she went to San Francisco and went into training as a nurse at the German hospital in that city, returning to Honolulu about five years ago.

Mr. Mesick is well known in business circles in Honolulu, having been superintendent of the mechanical department of the Gazette for some time.

The wedding gifts to the bride were numerous, among them being a large number of silver pieces, the gifts of Manager and Mrs. Crane and the employees of the Gazette Company, appreciated by Mr. Mesick as an evidence of the aloha felt for him and his bride by his fellow workers.

Mr. and Mrs. Mesick will be at home to their friends at 1748 Luzo street.

of Miss Edna Gunn on Monday night, a large number of the young society friends of the guest of honor being present. Among these were the Misses Beatrice Castle, Alice Cooke, Charlotte Baldwin, Dagmar Sorenson, Harriet Hatch, Elsa, Linda and Ingrid Schaefer, Lily Paty, Lorna Iaukea, Constance Restarick, Theda Burnham, Marjorie and Dorothy Freeth, Muriel Campbell, Alice Cooper, Violet and Vera Damon, Katherine Goodale, Ethel Wilcox, Helen and Alice Macfarlane, Barneson, Elnora Sturgeon, Bessie Hopper, Bella McCriston, Helen Girvin, Sara Lucas, Lydia and Julie McStocker, Messrs. George Brown, Sonny Macfarlane, Herbert Dowsett, Walter and Harold Dillingham, Lowreys (3), Deverent Kennedy, Frederick Wichman, Harold Castle, Alfred Castle, Weller, Southack, Galt, Fay, Brown, Linen Brady, Richard Cooke, Harold Rice, Fred Damon, George Fuller, William Walker, Sam Walker, Alexander Walker, Frank Armstrong, Gustav Schaefer, Allison Jordan, Harry Lucas, Geo. Canavaro, George Renton, R. E. Wright, S. H. Derby and George Isenberg.

A delightful luncheon was given on Monday to Mrs. Rodiek by Miss Margaret Walker, among the guests being Mrs. George Carter, Mrs. Charles Wilder, Mrs. E. F. Bishop, Mrs. C. L. Wight, Mrs. C. S. Holloway, Mrs. J. M. Dowsett, Mrs. J. A. Campbell, Mrs. von Tempky, Mrs. G. P. Wilder, Mrs. G. C. Potter, Mrs. F. W. Macfarlane and Miss Ingrid Schaefer.

The polo dance at the Seaside last night was what all the polo dances are—the jolliest and liveliest of any social functions in Honolulu. Honolulu, Maui and Kauai society turned out in force, and, owing to the fact that the dance had been advertised as for friends of the polo teams only, the personnel was most select. The beautiful Seaside lanai and grounds were especially lighted and decorated for the occasion, and everyone said that they had the time of their lives. The Oahu club outdid themselves in the matter of hospitality, while Maui, as ever, did more than all others to keep the ball rolling. They do this whether on the polo field, on a plantation or at a dance.

Miss Lynne Carpenter of Omaha, Neb., arrived in the steamer Manchuria from San Francisco on Wednesday. Thus far she was in company with Rev. N. B. Ralston and wife, through passengers for Hongkong, who had letters to "the Congregational minister" at Honolulu. Miss Carpenter's father is at the head of the Carpenter Paper Co., one of the largest wholesale paper concerns in the country, is president of the Omaha Y. M. C. A. and prominent in church work.

The delightful tea given on Monday afternoon by Mrs. A. W. T. Bottomley at her artistic home in College Hills was one of the social successes of the week. Mrs. Bottomley was assisted in receiving by her sister, Miss Jordan, while Master Bottomley acted nicely the part of an escort, meeting the guests and conducting them to where his mother was receiving. Among those present were Mrs. Kopke, Mrs. George Davies, Mrs. Waterhouse, Mrs. Pratt, Mrs. Basil Combe, Mrs. Fred H. Larnier, Mrs. Soper, Mrs. Foster, Mrs. Jordan, Mrs. Arthur Berg, Mrs. Forster, wife of the British Consul; Mrs. Hawes Jr., Miss Ingrid Schaefer, Miss Spalding, Miss Cameron, Miss Jordan, Miss Rycroft, Miss Hardaway.

Miss Nannie Winston, who has recently returned from an extended visit to the mainland, was a guest at the dinner given at the Moana Hotel on Sunday evening last by J. H. Bliss, the affair being given in her and Admiral and Mrs. Stevens' honor. Admiral and Mrs. Stevens leave shortly for Washington, D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hitchcock and family are on Kauai, where they will enjoy a month's outing. Mr. Hitchcock is transferring many of the beauties of the Garden Island to canvas.

The lanai dance given on Tuesday evening by Guy Macfarlane at the residence of his parents was one of the most enjoyable of the many affairs in which the younger set participated during the week. The grounds of the beautiful place were brightly decorated with Chinese lanterns and a strings of colored incandescents, making a brilliant picture. Among the guests were Dr. and Mrs. Clifford High, Misses Alice Cooke, Justine McClanahan, Elsa Schaefer, Linda Schaefer, Dagmar Sorenson, Annie Dowsett, Marjorie Freeth, Dorothy Freeth, Irene Fisher, Cordella Walker, Edna Gunn,

On Thursday a luncheon was given by Miss Dagmar Sorenson, her guests being some of the younger society set, including Misses Alice Cooke, Ethel Wilcox, Edna Gunn, Harriet Hatch, Katherine Goodale, Violet and Vera Damon, Elsa and Linda Schaefer, Bessie Hopper and Irene Fisher.

Governor and Mrs. Frear were the guests of Chief Justice Hartwell on Thursday night, following the inauguration ceremonies of the day. Among those invited to meet the Governor and his wife at their first official appearance in society were ex-Governor and Mrs. George R. Carter, Justice Wilder and Mrs. Wilder, Secretary and Mrs. E. A. Mott-Smith, Judge and Mrs. F. M. Hatch and Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Judd.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Tenney are back home, being among the returning passengers on the Manchuria. Mrs. Noonan accompanied them on their return.

Miss Marie Hall, one of the leading violinists of the English speaking world, who is to stop off here for one night on her way to the mainland from Australia, comes with a world-wide reputation. Her recital on Wednesday afternoon or evening should be the musical treat of the year.

Mrs. Frank L. Hoogs and daughters are at Haleiwa, where they will spend a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Foster Dutton will sail next month for their plantation home at Honolulu. The Duttons have been enjoying the fishing at the McCloud Country Club and motoring through the southern part of the state. Much entertaining has been done in their honor, both here and at Santa Barbara.—Chronicle.

OPPOSES UNCLE SAM.

There is an order of the liquor license commissioners which, liquor dealers claim, is in opposition to Federal law on liquor. Several saloon men have reported to the U. S. Revenue office that they have been notified by the liquor license board to remove their signs as wholesalers or take out wholesale licenses. About 75 in this County have Federal licenses as wholesalers and are required by the Federal law to have such signs over their places of business.
